WV ASHRAE Chapter Meeting
“Case Studies in Engineering Ethics”

Meeting Details:

Attendance: We will have an in-person meeting and will be providing webinar access to the live presentation for those that are registered (see details below)

Times: 12:00 PM - 1:15 PM, including a lunch for in-person attendees

In-Person Meeting Location: ZDS Design/Consulting Service, 35 Corporate Drive, Suite 532, Scott Depot, WV. 25560

PDH certificate for 1.0 hours will be provided to attendees of the seminar.

Presentation Description:

Case Studies in Engineering Ethics: This will be an interactive session where we will discuss ethics cases that have been adjudicated by the NSPE (or by State Boards). Due to the interactive nature of this seminar, you will have the opportunity to engage in spirited debate in a small group setting, and not just listen to the presenter talk about ethics.

If possible, gather together in your various offices or at ZDS Design to enable discussion on the cases. Cases will be presented, along with the final outcome. Real cases are used because they have generally reached an official conclusion that has been published, along with the reasoning behind the outcome.

We hope you will more thoroughly understand the ethical climate as ruled by the NSPE and State Boards.

Featured Presenter

Mike Bilderbeck, P.E., FASHRAE - The Pickering Firm: Mike Bilderbeck is a life-long Memphian; graduating from Memphis State University in 1980 with a BS in Mechanical Engineering. He immediately went to work for Pickering, Wooten, Smith & Weiss, a Memphis consulting engineering firm. That company is now The Pickering Firm. They're now 150 people and they also practice architecture; and Mike's still there! He's a Principle Owner and serves as the Chief Mechanical Engineer.

Mike is a registered Mechanical and Fire Protection Engineer, and is licensed in 17 states. Mike has been involved in ASHRAE (American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air Conditioning Engineers) for over 30 years:

- Served on Society Board of Directors and Standards Appeals Board
- Chaired Standards Committee

Mike and his wife of 43 years have two children. Alex and Anne Claire
